A thousand faces, a thousand shores
Thousands of miles apart
So many places, too many shores
Still I hear the sound of your heart
Beating, now hear mine bleeding

Always, always, all I want is you
Always, always, all I want is you
All I want is you

Where did you come from, and where do I go
When I fall into you
The sound of the darkness, Iâ€™m out of control

All that I thought was true
Is turning, now my love is burning

Always, always, all I want is you
Always, always, all I want is you
All I want is you

Hear my voice, hear my pleading
Always, always, all I want is you
Always, always, all I want is you
Always, always, all I want is you, babe
Always, always, all I want is you
All I want is you
