You're the one and only one who's ever known me
You're my one and only
Wanna feel your love light shining down on my life
You're my one and only love

When we're far apart, no matter where you are
I feel you rushing through my heart
And when I didn't believe, love gave me back myself
Now you're the other part of me

I've searched this whole world to find someone like you
And when I held you for the first time I knew

You're the one and only one who's ever known me
You're my one and only
Wanna feel your love light shining down on my life
You're my one and only love

People come and they go, but you were always there
Now I've just moved on with someone
In the dark of the night when you're feeling all alone
I'll wrap you in my love so tight

Without you in my life I only exist
But when I'm in your arms, that's all there is

You're the one and only one who's ever known me
You're my one and only
Wanna feel your love light shining down on my life
You're my one and only love, baby

And if I lost your love my whole world would end
Where would I look to ever find my heart again

You're the other part of me, cos
You're the one and only one who's ever known me
You're my one and only
Wanna feel your love light shining down on my life
You're my one and only

You're the one and only one who's ever known me

You're my one and only
Wanna feel your love light shining down on my life
You're my one and only

You're the one and only one who's ever known me
You're my one and only
Wanna feel your love light shining down on my life
You're my one and only

You're the one and only one who's ever known me
You're my one and only
Wanna feel your love light shining down on my life
You're my one and only love
