Scrape you off the pavement just like I said I would
But I can't stand to watch the way you break yourself against the ground
The things you are
The way you do
Shouldn't have a thing to do with anyone but you

And it may be that things in your life are coming in too clear
Go ahead
Do the right thing
I'll just watch from here

You're banging on the screen door
Looking for the scraps of any little piece of me Anything that you can have Well I'm so spent
I'm so gone
I don't have a thing you want

And it may be that things in your life are coming in too
clear
Go ahead
Do the right thing
And I'll just watch from here

I'm not the girl that you think you saw Popping my knuckles just waiting to fall

And it may be that things in your life are coming in too
clear
Go ahead
Do the right thing and I'll just watch from here

Me not caring is the best thing happening to you
