Jenny Morris
"I've Had You"

If my friends all turned away
When I went walking by
If they couldn't stand to see
The madness in my eye
It would make no difference
I would feel no pain
Cause I've had you
I've had you
If I lost my way in this world
If I lost my home
If friends that I once stood by
Tried to forget my name
It would make no difference
I would feel no pain
CHORUS:
Cause I've had you
I've had you
I've had you
I've had you
In my dreams I leave the town
And walk into the field
And darkly lay my body
Down upon the ground so cold
And I take my dying breath
And I feel no ache or pain
And I feel no pain

(chorus)
Do you see that star
Way up there is where you take me
We have been so far
Way up there is where you take me
Let the sun turn into earth
And earth all turn to ice
The seasons stop right in their tracks
And day turn into night
I will be untouchable
I will feel no pain
(chorus)
Do you see that star
Way up there is where I place you
We have been so far

Way up there is where you take me
Way up there is where you take me to
I've had you
Way up there is where you take me to
Way up there is where you take me to
We have been so far
Way up there is where you take me
I've had you