

Jenny Morris

"Yoked Equally"

Visit "Yoked Equally" on MotoLyrics.com

How many times does it take til you flake on me Leave me a message I'll call you back Life is one season that gives you three reasons to change where will you be after that Says what she means give her high heels and jeans now she's satisfied so she's not coming back Looks like it's just you and me Jealousy and a bottle and smoke won't you give me that

Pray for a magical medical miracle Pray because you're not religious you're spiritual Take all the benefits offer no forgiveness It's easier than turning around chorus:

Cause the only road I've known goes down, down where the ride seems so righteous they've left us on the ground There's a reward for capturing my soul so, let the heavenly father shine down on me til the day I am yoked equally

God made man and the plan was he'd love him right back but you didn't choose the latter
You think you can do it alone on your own Well good luck but guess what it don't matter hundreds of thousands of millions have come through some never had a chance but still should have found you So here I am
if I can't count on them
I'll just cry out for help from above

(chorus)

