When I look in the mirror I see a person I'm not prod of I see a girl that has no place in this world hoo shouldn't even be alive

I see a girl that used to feel as if she was on top of the world untill one day something changed her liffe forever

Now every time this girl looks in the mirror she get some thing sharp and brings it to her wrist and makes herself bled untill she feels as if she has bled out everything bad that she has thought of that day Will this girl find a place in this world or will a single cut take her life away before that day?
