i've got secrets up to here, love don't you worry your pretty head i'm just playing to your fears, love where am i when you're in bed

i know where you go
(is that what you think)
i know where you go

don't ask me where i was those other nights don't wonder why i wasn't by your side, side what difference does it make you're asking 'who, who, who'
don't i always come back home to you?

i'm just waiting for the time, love not that you would care to learn I can't help but open wide every time, love
you can't help but run

i know where you go

(is that what you think)
i know where you go

don't wonder why i wasn't by your side, side

smells like invitation i can't stop, don't try to make me sleep, without you

don't you worry your pretty head i can help but open wide
every time, love
where am i when you're in bed?
