Ain't it kind of funny
A love can be like money
You can spend it or save it like your last time
We went from forever to a box of old love letters
On paper that still don't makes sense in my mind

How do you go from being someone's someone
To just someone they used to know
There was a time when every melody was meant
For you and me, so how did we become
To just a line in a song

Ain't it kind of crazy
A love can be that way
You miss someone so much then we just move on You try to make it better, but a heart just seems that clever
You'll just feel the way you do until you don't

How do you go from being someone's someone
To just someone they used to know
There was a time when every melody was meant
For you and me, so how did we become
To some line in a song

How do you go from being someone's someone
To just someone they used to know
There was a time when every melody was meant
For you and me, so how did we become
To some line in a song
