The time is now,
And I'm running so thin,
I got thin, I got thin,
While the others got fat.
So fatten up and deliver your secrets,
Those secrets,
Those stories untold.
Sorry to say that love is a game,
We're all just pawns in the way.
Lost, lost, lost,
Move the rook-E-eight,
Eliminate and get this game underway.

Too many secrets are shattering our lives,
While the others are stuck in expansive time.
I've been trying to get out of this golden fucking game.
So back it up and up to down, downtown,
Don't talk you tell me wrong.
Choose your battle of words,
That rule the world,
It's in our hands anyway.

Speak of the devil and I just may appear,
I appeared in your dream,
When you dreamed of getting ahead.
Headless chickens that are missing their exes,
So axe this and go to the next, next chapter.

Too many secrets are shattering our lives,
While the others are stuck in expansive time.
I've been trying to get out of this golden fucking game.
So back it up and up to down, downtown,
Don't talk you tell me wrong.
Choose your battle of words,
That rule the world,
It's in our hands anyway.

Which shall I be,
A warlock or a priest,
A pagan, christian, or an evangelist?
Pledge my alliance in the name of science,
Follow the moth into the fire.

Getting my head in a bit of twist.
What does it matter when your enemies are my friends?

Self serve friends,
Who are friends for a second,
I second that notion,
It feels so intense.
Intensely fishing without a hook, line, and sinker,
I sank to bottom,
We'll bottoms up to you.

Please inject some instant karma into my instant coffee.
Soon, soon, soon with the rope in the kitchen,
All the answers will be on their way.

Too many secrets are shattering our lives,
While the others are stuck in expansive time.
I've been trying to get out of this goddamn fucking game.
So back it up and up to down, downtown,
Don't talk you tell me wrong.
Choose your battle of words,
That rule the world,
It's in our hands anyway.
