I can't believe you went back on your word, oh.
But at the same time, I can.
You've done it before, so what's the difference?

I come home to work and clean messes up.
A tick-tock coming from your chest.
Now I pay support trying to do my best,
To get back on the road.

We decide to welcome you to the show tonight.
Maybe get a glimpse at ours, take a life.
So keep it comin' with the camera.
You know you'll get a second chance.

Surprise, surprise.
You're out again.
You're obviously busy spending time with your friends.
And your stories start to bore me.
So I'll be countin' on my senses just to keep me awake.

(Tick-tock, tick-tock comin' from your chest.)

We decide to welcome you to the show tonight.
Maybe get a glimpse at ours, take a life.
So keep it comin' with the camera.
You know you'll get a second...

We decide to welcome you to the show tonight.
Maybe get a glimpse at ours, take a life.
So keep it comin' with the camera.
You know you'll get a second chance.

If you never meant what you do for so long, for so long,
Then why'd you keep on coming, why'd you keep on coming back?
If you never meant what you do for so long, for so long,
Then why'd you keep on coming, why'd you keep on coming?
Well, keep on coming.
Why'd you keep on coming back?

If you never meant what you do for so long, for so long,
Then why'd you keep on coming, yeah.
You keep on coming.
You keep on coming, yeah.
You keep on coming back.

If you never meant what you do for so long, for so long,
Then why'd you keep on coming, yeah,
You keep on coming.
You keep on coming, yeah.
You keep on coming back.

If you never meant what you do for so long, for so long,
Then why'd you keep on coming, yeah,
You keep on coming.
You keep on coming, yeah.
You keep on coming back.

If you never meant what you do for so long, for so long,
Then why'd you keep on coming,
You keep on coming back.
