If you cover it up, it's like it doesn't exist said the girl with the thirst for a flirt with the risk it started off fine everything ideal until she picked up the pain just to prove she could feel

The work spread quick, like the ink on the page said as if she spoke, started showing her age she was wrong, she knew that he was right and it was all over with the drop of the knife

What do you say when your secret is out your so-called friends are all talking about and you'll only hope that they will shut their mouths then you will learn how to help yourself

If you swallow it down, there's no problem to fix she tried to prove, but she couldn't convince when no visible signs were there and she was gone

She came to me for two whole years when you can't help the cause it only causes fear her breath's a solution, took this time to come along when the cup's half full you'll be ready to move on

What do you say when your secret is out
your so-called friends are all talking about
and you'll only hope that they will shut their mouths
then you will learn how to help yourself

What do you say when your secret is out
your so-called friends are all talking about
and you'll only hope that they will shut their mouths
then you will learn how to help yourself

Whoa-ohhhhh
Whoaaaaa
Whoa-ohhhhh

your so-called friends are all talking about and you will only hope that they will shut their mouths

then you will learn how to help yourself

What do you say when your secret is out you so-called friends are all talking about
and you'll only hope that they will shut their mouths
then you will learn how to help yourself

Whoa-ohhhhh

Whoaaaaa

Whoa-ohhhhh
