Looking out my window
I can't help but think of you
Oooohhh
Since you've been gone away
I've been left feeling blue

No one can take
This pain away
My hours seem to turn to days
As if I'm out of town
It's no more to lose
No more to gain
It seems the clouds
Can't take the rain
Cause it keeps pouring down

But to see my sunshine again
(But to see my sunshine again)
But to see my sunshine again
(But to see my sunshine again)
But to see my sunshine again
(But to see my sunshine again)
But to see my sunshine again
But to see my sunshine again
(Again again)

Ooh ooh ohhhh

Looking out my window
I can't help but reminisce
The times we shared
Ohhhohhh
Just memories
Of you and me

I look up when
The sky is cold
How could someone
Just take your soul so fast
Now your gone
I quit my job

I can't stop smoking
Please believe
My heart is broken down
I'm, all alone

But to see my sunshine again
(But to see my sunshine again)
But to see my sunshine again
(But to see my sunshine again)
But to see my sunshine again
(But to see my sunshine again)
But to see my sunshine again
(Again again)

I'm tired of the dark
In need of the light
I wake up each morning
Waiting for you to rise
I'm scared of outside
Cause it might wash me away
Wish I could open these curtains
And know I'll and see you again
I'll see you again
If I could hold you again
If I could feel you again
If I could touch you again

Ooooh ooohh

To see my sunshine again
Just to see my sunshine again
To see my sunshine again
Just to see my sunshine again
To see my sunshine again
Just to see my sunshine again
To see my sunshine again
Ohhh
