Take note of where I stand
Notice where I land
Be sure of nothing, nothing

Enough of what you say
I know it's not our fault
Then why do I agree every time you talk?

Everywhere you go
Is no closer to where I am
It seems the time it takes is the time that takes you away

I'm living up all your time
So keep the memories pure and strong
If there's need to hold on too

I'm living up all your time
So keep the memories pure and strong
Keep them pure and strong 'cause

It doesn't feel like rain when summer is over
And I found something else, I found something else
Does it feel like rain?
I found something else I found something else

She puts out a cigarette
To whisper in my ear
You only feel this way 'cause that's what you're used to

But memories bare the truth
They're the only ones that do
If I can't plead my case, then why can you?

I'm living up all your time
So keep the memories pure and strong
In case there's need to hold on too

I'm living up all your time
Keep the memories pure and strong
Keep them pure and strong 'cause

It doesn't feel like rain when summer is over
And I found something else, I found something else
Does it feel like rain?
Well I found something else I found something else

Does it feel like rain summer is over
I found something else, I found something else
Does it feel like rain?
I found something else, I found something else, yeah
I found something else, I found something else

Take note of where I stand
Notice where I land
Be sure of nothing, nothing
