How can one fall all the time and climb again?
How does one heart feel so lost to find again?
How can one road lead the way today
Before giving it all?

I wish I could fly to the top of the mountains
So that I could see just how far this will go
Feels like I'm stuck in the battle
Be quick with no armor but still standing strong

'Cause to be a survivor, y'all gotta know how
Y'all better know how to keep holding on

How does one give all they got, trust receive the half?
How does one live day to day, day, forget the past?
I'm all here on my own, if so I'mma do this all alone,
yeah
I can never live and be afraid, yeah

I wish I could fly to the top of the mountains
So that I could see just how far this will go
Feels like I'm stuck in the battle
Be quick with no armor but still standing strong

'Cause to be a survivor, y'all gotta know how
Y'all better know how to keep holding on

Against the wind, I'm not giving in
I once spoke to a prophet
He said, don't stop 'til you got it, ooh

I'm not feeling fooled, I'm not letting go, no
They tryna break me down but I'm not fraction, no
For all we know this rock keep roll
Would it just be the translation to unstoppable?

Before the world recall those in
I wish I had win to pretend and then

Then maybe I could fly to the top of the mountains
So that I could see just how far this will go
Feels like I'm stuck in the battle

Be quick with no armor but still standing strong

'Cause to be a survivor y'all gotta know how
Y'all better know how to keep holding on, eh
Holding on, eh, holding on, eh, holding on

Feels like I'm stuck in the battle
Be quick with no armor but still standing strong
'Cause to be a survivor y'all gotta know how Y'all better know how to keep holding
