Another day, another struggle,
Living in a cheap bottle of booze.
Paid with the spare change of the caring people.
While others ignore him and they,
Come to be in their warm beds,
Dreaming of the next fortune they'll make by
Sucking up to their boss
We'll find our ignorance.
Brought down by a society ruled by white politicians.
Power, hunger and greed are what desroys him,
The newspaper bed man trying to find his life without a friend.

While others ignore him and they,
Come to be in their warm beds,
Dreaming of the next fortune they'll make by
Sucking up to their boss
We'll find our ignorance.
Brought down by a society ruled by white politicians.
Power, hunger and greed are what desroys him,
The newspaper bed man trying to find his life without a
friend.
Asleep under last weeks news (repeat)
