Drunk on your tears
My world is spinning 'round
Can't put my foot down

Numb, but I'm here
'Cause the creaking in your bones
Is how I find my way home

You're awake, I know
You're a thousand miles away
But I can touch you with my toes

Drunk again
Every night it seems
I stumble in over your dreams

Numb and I'm drained
I run my fingers through your hair
You run right through me with your stare

You're awake, I know
You're a thousand miles away
But I can touch you with my toes

You're awake, I know
You're a thousand miles away
But I can touch you with my toes

Drunk on your tears
Lying in the bed next
To nothing disappears

Drunk and so tired
Tired of waking up again
'Cause every day's so much the same

You're awake, I know
You're a thousand miles away
But I can touch you with my toes
