Bubble gum and house parties
When you stole your parents rum
And tried to screw everything that could breathe
Back in high school we didn't have a whole lot to do

We watched the world go by on the television screen
Said it's the 90's kids that's way out this is way in Go beat each other up on the dance floor
Told us drugs were no good

But then we smoked 'em and liked 'em
So much that we smoked a little more
We liked 'em so much, we smoked a little more

Did I call your name?
Did you hear me singin' that song that I wrote for you?
You're so the same but your so different
I didn't recognize you

It's kinda hard with all that sexual confusion
Sometimes you don't know if you're gay or straight
But what's the difference, it's a wonderful illusion
Most times you won't make it past second base

I'm in a band, we kinda suck but we don't now it yet
And I don't care anyway
'Cuz soon, I'm gonna sell these drums, pay my rent Support my kid and tell him all about way back in daddy's day
I'll tell him all about way back in daddy's day

Did I call your name?
Did you hear me singin' that song that I wrote for you?
You're so the same but your so different
I didn't recognize you

Some years later by a soda coolerator
In a corner store back in my home town
This stranger smiles at me, said
"Remember the class of '93?"

And for some reason it makes him look real proud

After all the good times he said we had
He looks at me, scratches his head

And asked me where the hell I ever went
And the funny thing is that I never even knew him
But he coulda been any one of my high school friends

Did I call your name?
Did you hear me singin' that song that I wrote for you?
Your so the same but your so different
I didn't recognize you

Did I call you name?
Singin' that song that I wrote for you
Singin' that song I wrote for you
Just singin' that song that I wrote for you
