If we had the words in times like these
We wouldn't have to stare
We'd both know what to say
How to pray or things to do to save the day
Some will call it sacrifice
They'll look at this and never see
The beauty or how much it means
The blood that runs inside of me
I know you understand
There's no map for this, no plan
And the way we say goodbye
Is not the way that anyone would do
Like a wave out on the ocean
I will always come right back to you

Like we blinked, not a moment is gone
(Nothing changed, nothing fades, nothing lost)
We pick up where we left off
It's like the world is draped in a camouflage
And sometimes never what it seems
Everyone's got different things
They hide behind or try to be
But the things I carry with me
All remind me who I am
When so much of me is not with me
What matters most is what I leave
Behind for you to keep
So smile when ou think of me
