There was a time I was feeling so hopeless
It's a wonder I didn't cave in
Kept throwing love at all the wrong people
Never to see it again

Oh Lord, won't You look what I've found?
Staring me right in the face
Yeah I'm through being lonely, I'm through being sad
I'm all through throwing good love after bad

Now I think of all the time I have wasted
Wearing my heart on my sleeve
Trusting my love to the kindness of strangers
Oh, was so naive

Oh Lord, won't You look what I've found?
Staring me right in the face
Yeah I'm through being lonely, I'm through being sad
I'm all through throwing good love after bad

Oh Lord, won't You look what I've found?
Staring me right in the face
Yeah I'm through being lonely, I'm through being sad
I'm all through throwing good love after bad
