All through the day I do okay until the night is in The darken skies those mighty skies that's when my bravery ends Forgetting you I'll never do honey I don't know how to start
What can I do I still love you and that's the hurtin' part There's someone new and he's got you and that's the killin' part
When you were mine I was so blind I should have had a chart
Of do's and dont's of rights and wrongs that helped me hold your heart Cause now you're gone and I'm alone and that's the hurtin' part I hear your name I feel the pain and that's the cryin'
part
Your precious face I can't erase Lord that's when my teardrops start

No I can't kill the way I feel down deep inside my heart Your memory's a part of me and that's the hurtin' part Your memory's a part of Jerry Lee and that's the hurtin'
part
