Well every love has got two sides and a love just cannot live
If one side always takes and never gives So put yourself here in my place and just think how it would be If I'd always hurt you like you hurt me Turn it around in your mind turn it around see what you find Look at our love from my point of view and see all the hurt I'm a goin' through Just turn it around in your mind turn it around in your mind [guitar]
Well you know I'll always forgive so you don't care if you're not true
Cause you know I'll swallow all my pride for you But if you care for me at all then just picture if you can How one side of our love looks from where I stand

Just turn it around in your mind turn it around see what you find
Look at love from my point of view and see all the hurt
I'm going through Just turn it around...
Yes turn it around...
