She'll be like moonlight and roses
In her gown of fluffy white
I'll dance with an angel
All the night

She'll look so young and so fair
With a ribbon in her hair
And on the cheek
A touch of pink

A touch of pink on her cheek
A touch of red on her lips
A touch of blues in her eyes
To match the blue, blue skies

A touch of pink
A touch of red
A touch of blue
To show her love is true

She'll be an armful of Heaven
When I take her for my bride
I'll hold her forever by my side

We'll have a house
White and neat and the
Sound of little feet
And all around
A touch of pink

A touch of pink on her cheek
A touch of red on her lips
A touch of blues in her eyes
To match the blue, blue skies

A touch of pink
A touch of red
A touch of blue
