

Jerry Vale

"Solitaire"

Visit "Solitaire" on MotoLyrics.com

I'm sitting in my chair
And playing solitaire
And wondering just where on earth you've gone

The lazy smoke rings rise
Like dreams before my eyes,
Like dreams I should forget,
Oh, I know I should and yetâ€¦!

Your face comes back to me
The way it used to be
When love was very new
And hearts were careless, too.
Now nothing's left at all.
The binding teardrops fall
As I recall you.

I now that very soon
The solitary moon
May be the only company for me.

Oh, somewhere in the night,
Where lights are burning bright
And other lips are free
Then do you ever think of me?

The whisper in the rain
Can never sooth the pain,
For it's oh, so very, very hard to bear.

So tho' the hour is late
I sit alone and wait.
You left me playing
Sol-i-taire.

Visit Jerry Vale page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.