Never said that this was easy,
Common sense, left behind.
Got myself to drive me crazy,
This distance is killing me.
Dropped line and I'm losing my mind
Everything's perfect, everything's fine
What can't I share this feeling?

Alive in the daylight, alone in the dark.
We'll always only ever be an ocean apart.

Too many hours,
Too many miles.
I swear I'll count the days,
Drifting further,
Further away.
So many things wish I could say.
This distance is killing me,
A piece of static just saved my life.
One last night, just one last time,
Hope I can keep this going.

Alive in the daylight, alone in the dark.
We'll always only ever be an ocean apart.

Lost connection, lost connection.
Under the darkest skies,
I swear I hate goodbyes
Lost connection, lost connection.
No matter how I try,
I swear I hate goodbyes

Left and leaving, left behind.
Do my best to keep this working.
Tired of waking, waking up tired.
Dead brain, driving me insane.
This distance is killing me.
I despise, I curse every sunrise.
Out of reach, just out of touch.
Only thing I know for certain,

Alive in the daylight, alone in the dark.

We'll always only ever be an ocean apart.

Lost connection, lost connection.
Under the darkest skies,
I swear I hate goodbyes
Lost connection, lost connection.
No matter how I try,
I swear I hate goodbyes.

I hate this ocean.
I hate these skies.

I hate goodbyes
