You hesitate, to procreate, your up to late, exaggerate
You're such a find, they must be blind
Your insides hallow, it's all been mined
Now don't quit
There are too many girls that help rotate the world
Left for me to get
They don't know me yet
They only seem to leave after we've met

Words resonate, they complicate, they deviate, In such a state
I can't stand still, placebo pill
Can't fix this heart if you break my will Then you shout
Things in your head are left better unsaid
What's that all about?
It comes pouring out
There's nothing left for you to doubt

Now I missed the signs
I'm failing to slow down and now it's passed me by

I don't unwind
Can't seem to find someone to be the last in line
This trip is long won't someone help me drive
Another day another night half dead
I really didn't hear anything you said
Its getting late I think it's probably time for bed
And anything you wanna do is fine
Hurry up before I change my mind
I'm gonna change my mind

Let's dominate, and aggravate, and terminate its going great
You're wasting time, Its such a crime, You said it's ours, but it feels like mine
I can't help but to love myself above all else
How can I love you too?
I don't know what to do

Now I missed the signs
I'm failing to slow down and now it's passed me by

I don't unwind
Can't seem to find someone to be the last in line
This trip is long won't someone help me drive

It just starts over and over and over and over
