I used to be,
I used to be out of control
Now I want to see,
I want to see deep in your soul
Where I can breathe,
Where I could always make you whole
and fill this need,
To fill this need to grow inside until I finally reach my goal

You used to be, you used to be out of control
Now you just succeed,
You just go out and sell my soul
To fuel this greed,
Fix broken parts that make you whole
And fill this need, do you fill the need that always grows inside? You'll never your goal
Don't stop it now you're on a roll

Broken Dreams are what you've seen tonight
The more you watch the more we'll have to fight

Let's turn it on
It turns me off
I hope its ends up all right
They cast their lines and watch us bite.

This used to be, this used to be in our control
Now you're such a scream
I hear the shouting in your soul
We're digging deep
Never planned a way out of this hole
Now I guess we need
To fill the need inside us

Never ever let us reach our goals
But don't stop it now you're on a roll

Broken Dreams are what you've seen tonight
The more you watch the more we have to fight
Let's turn it on
It turns me off

I hope its ends up all right
They cast their lines and watch us

I used to be,
I used to be out of control
Now I want to see,
I want to see deep in your soul
Where I can breathe,
Where I could always make you whole
And fill this need,
To fill this need to grow inside until we finally reached our goal

Broken Dreams are what you've seen tonight
The more you watch the more we'll have to fight
Let's turn it on
It turns me off
hope its ends all right
Turn the channel for us
Make sure not to bore us
Cast their lines and watch us bite.
