ive lived in alleyways and ditches eaten things that youve disgarded but i wont be forever watching the shit you do ive slept in horror and drank the terror from your cup of lies and now im sick of you and in these alleyways and ditches ive seen bodyparts dismembered remains of your selfish lives too long have i stayed in the shadows always watching, growing stronger and now i will rise now that these alleyways and ditches burn a hole into existance
i will be forever tearing it open and if this wound is in need of stitches just know that i wont let you sew it shut because i cant let you forget
