"The Train To Nowhere"

All aboard to the train to nowhere
Revolving tracks, that always retract
There's no looking back
All aboard to the train to nowhere

Zero to sixty in twelve seconds flat
The man strokes his mustache
As he ties the girl to the tracks
The hero will race us to save her
But we're just too fast

All aboard to the train to nowhere
Revolving tracks, that always retract
There's no looking back
All aboard to the train to nowhere

Since the time we left the station
Nothing could keep us from our mission
No form of bandit or opposition

All aboard to the train to nowhere
Revolving tracks, that always retract
There's no looking back
All aboard to the train to nowhere

We're the light coming from the tunnel ahead
It comes to light when it comes to a head
You've gotta believe
You've gotta believe
You've gotta believe
Or we're on the train to nowhere.
