Meet me by the sea again
Past the point the shoreline bends
Where the sand is soft and warm
And hangs upon your golden arm
And time won't move at all
We were once the only ones
Who knew of the secret sun
Shining down where no one goes
In a place that no one knows
And time won't move at all
And time won't move at all
Many lives have come between
You and me, the secret scene
But back there in the orange light
There'll be no fear of the night
And time won't move at all
And time won't move at all
