

Jesse Harris "Where To Start"

I would have to write a novel
Just to get out all my thoughts
'Cause I wanna talk about it
But I don't know where to start

I've been walking through a valley
With a thunder in my heart
And I'm trying not to hear it
But I don't know where to start

Even if there was an omen
Like the ringing of a bell
And anyway it's so hard to tell
So I know I might as well start
I know I might as well

I can't recall what I was dreaming
When I woke up with a start
If I only could remember
But I don't know where to start
I don't know where to start
I don't know where to start
