You are the queen of stone and ice
You are the bird of paradise
On a gale at dawn
Just floating on
You don't know the dream I had
You don't know I feel so bad
I can see you, girl
With your eyes like pearls
Come on out and see the sights
You won't be alone tonight
Look at the walls you've built
Look at the time you've killed
There is a price for mystery
There is a world that you never see
There is a seed we sow
With just a weed that grows
These are the plans of yesterday
This is the love that will never go away
