In a mirror stop and stare
But it's a stranger's face in there
Rake my hair back with a plastic comb
Where'd I go?
I'm feeling like I'm a long way from home

You were sweet to care for me
And gently stroke my hair for me
Put me on a mattress made of foam
And whisper low
But I'm feeling like I'm a long way from home

I don't know where I'm going
I don't know what I'm doing

Sleep again won't come to me
I walk outside, the galaxies
And stars surround the whole world like a dome
I'm still alone
And I'm feeling like I'm a long, long way from home
