Treading lightly on the ground
Trying not to make a sound
Tell me which way I should go
Tell me 'cause I just don't know

Walking softly through the air
Trying so hard not to care
But I'm failing, failing bad
Feeling like I've just been had

What's this silence from within?
Open the door and let me in
Running on these rolling wheels
Trying so hard not to feel

But the demon seems to know
Follows everywhere I go
What's this darkness in the sky?
Open the ground and let me die

Sinking in the rolling sea
Waves are crashing over me
To another sea below
Sinking steadily and slow

There's a current pulling strong
Open your eyes and I'll be gone
