You never stop you know
You never give up
You're always on my back about something
And if I could change
You'd still complain
You say I'll never amount to nothing
And every little word that you say
I remember and I store it away
To use it against you
I'll always resent you
You never listen to a word that I say

Well last chance long past
This time I'm gone
I'll feel better where the weather is sunny and warm
You can shut your mouth
Cos I don't wanna hear you complain no more

You put me down
You always pushed me around
You'd erase my kind if you could
If you could see the restraint
Behind my bottled up rage
You'd stay away for your own good
It only goes to show you were wrong
And I knew I was right all along
You can't stand the sight of me
And hate me for trying to be
All the things you know that you're not

Well last chance long past
This time I'm gone
I'll feel better where the weather is sunny and warm
You can shut your mouth
Cos I don't wanna hear you complain no more
Don't wanna hear you complain no more
Don't wanna hear you complain no more
