I wanted you to stay
On that sun drenched holiday
Two visions on a fly
Only you and I

Those replicas remind
Held out in daydream time
And that saddleless drive
Beneath the empty sky
Those were happy times

Forget the few
Those quiet fires
Add nothing on you
We almost lost our minds
In the battleside
Those were happy times

Like love, lust
Sometimes you have
To kill the one you trust
We could only try

Those were happy times
Oh so happy
Those were happy times
Oh so happy

Somewhere out there
Someone's breaking down the barricade
To heat all flames
Someone else becomes the slave
