Tell the winter hunter
I knew, I knew nothing of you then
When the snow had melted
I was, I was beneath you

Still, there is no place
Still, there is no place

Where was I?
Where was I?
Where was I, was I?

Tell the winter hunter
I knew, I knew of a heart gone still
We crossed the tracks that carry
I was, I was beneath you

But still, there is no place
Still, there is no place
Still, there is no place
Still, there is no place
