It's morning and I still love you
Like a dream I thought,
the sun would find you gone
It's morning and I still love you
And I think I hear it saying,
hearts are home
Do you ever been,
at the end of the day
When you held the world, and you let it get away
It's lonely
Sittin in your middle of the sky you see, everything there is to see you babe, everywhere there is to be
It's lonely
And then comes walking through your door, everything you've bargained for

If only
It's morning and I still love you
Like a dream I thought,
the sun would find you gone
It's morning and I still love you
And I think I hear it saying,
hearts are home
It's morning and I still love you
