You did hang the moon, didn't you Waylon?
You did hang that moon, didn't you Waylon?
Weren't you the one they called the seventh son?
You did hang the moon, didn't you Waylon?

You take so many words and bring them all home with one
You walk into my room and it lights up like the sun
Each step you take leads a way for someone
And I know you'd never do love wrong
You did hang the moon, didn't you Waylon?
You did hang that moon, didn't you Waylon?
You were the one they call the seventh son
You did hang the moon, didn't you Waylon?
