

Candace Marie "Postcard"

Visit "Postcard" on MotoLyrics.com

I'll use these eyelashes for good
But they won't catch one more tear
And I'll use these lips to sing
A song you'll never hear

You couldn't stand when I was crawling
Did all I could to keep from falling
I'm walking away
The games you play
You complicate your life
I need my sanity

Here a message on the back of a postcard
A few words to remind you of my heart
A message on the back of a post card
I'm moving on

Draw open these curtains
One hook falls
A perfect ending to it all
But I won't block out the sun
This heart has just begun to fly

I couldn't stand how you kept on stalling
Did all you could to keep from falling
I'm walking away from the games you play
You complicate your life
I need my sanity

You always tried to justify what you said
Make excuses about being in your head
I played your games
Eased your mind
You don't deserve to see me fly

Here a message on the back of a postcard
A few words to remind you of my heart
A message on the back of a post card
I'm moving on

