I'm almost too lonely to speak
My eyes dart around when your talking to me I can't seem to make myself not think About the past and how you are now I think I've been left alone long enough to do something insane
My friends they worry I'm wasting away
i wish they'd not say a thing
'cause my momma said that no one can stop me
My momma said that no one can stop me
My momma said that no one can stop me
I wont let you stand in my way
Your actions they push me away
Into the dark where sleepless i lay
But I'm not alone i have company An internal war that wont let me be I think that I've been left alone long enough to do something insane
My friends they worry I'm wasting away
i wish they'd not say a thing
i wont let you stand in my way
