You're the sun and the moon and all the stars,
You're my first thought in the morning, and you are,
The wind as it blows over my head,
You're the one that I love best

You're the reason that I breathe and that I lie,
You're the reason that I left my friends behind,
You're the reason that I cry myself to sleep,
You're the only one I need

And I can't stand the thought of waking up another
morning,
Not knowing if your mine

And I can't stand the thought of living without you
Oh I would rather die

Oh the one that I love best, please be mine

I can still feel your breathe upon my neck,
You can still smell my perfume in your bed,
I can still see your footsteps in the yard,
You're the one that broke my heart

And I can't stand the thought of waking up another
morning,
Not knowing if your mine

And I can't stand the thought of living without you
Oh I would rather die

Oh the one that I love best,
Oh the one that I love best,
Oh the one that I love best,

Please be mine
