I was counting down minutes.
I was wishin' on the stars.
I was prayin' for a sign,
Tryin' to beat the odds.
I was dreamin' of you,
Before I saw your face,
There you were,
Waitin' for that day.
Then you reached through the hurricane,
When you baby you called me name.

You broke through the storm,
And you turned back the night.
Baby you are the fire,
Burnin' the midnight sky,
And your love,
Keeps taking me higher.
Just when all hope was gone,
Where the hero belongs...
There you were.
There you were.

Must have broken into heaven,
Just to roll back the clouds.
Were you on a mission.
Were you seeking me out.
Was I that one in a million.
Was I that one sacred kiss,
That you couldn't chance,
You just couldn't miss.
Then you babe,
You were whispering through the silent tears,
When you, you swept away all my fears. Oh, oh, oh

You broke through the storm,
And you turned back the night.
Baby you are the fire,
Burnin' the midnight sky,
And your love,
Keeps taking me higher.
Just when all hope has gone,

Where the hero belongs...
There you were, babe.

Standin' in the middle of nowhere,
With your arms wide open and you,
You were the reason when there was no reason.
In my life.....
You're the reason in my life.

(Whoa)

You broke through the storm,
And you turned back the night.
Baby you are the fire,
Burnin' the midnight sky,
And your love,
Keeps taking me higher.
Just when all hope has gone,
Where the hero belongs...
There you were.

You broke through the storm,
And you turned back the night.
Baby you are the fire,
Burnin' the midnight sky,
And your love,
Keeps taking me higher.
Just when all hope has gone,
Where the hero belongs...
There you were.

Like the light in the eye of the storm,
Tellin' me not to cry anymore.
Where I watched my whole world fall apart,
Shinin' through like an angel from afar.
(Whoa like an angel.)

You broke through the storm,
And you turned back the night.
Baby you are the fire,
Burnin' the midnight sky,
And your love,
Keeps taking me higher.
Just when all hope has gone,
Where the hero belongs...
There you were.
