I think I saw you in the mirror last night
A crooked haircut and an old night-light
I started thinkin' about way back when
I can't re-live it but I'll visit it now and then

Saw you talking to the stars last night
They're painted over but they shine so bright
Can't believe it how the time has flown
I'm still the same girl even though I've grown

We've come so far

I am a rock, a mountain
I stand tall
But sometimes I'm moved
I learn to take each day not to
Take too much
Not to give too much away

I saw you dancing in the rain last night
You sneak a smoke and then be home by midnight
I saw you walking in my shoes today
You're hard to follow but you turned out OK

We've come so far

I am a rock, a mountain
I stand tall
But sometimes I moved
I learn to take each day not to
Take too much
Not to give too much away

Sleep tight under painted stars
Cause while we're here we gotta laugh out loud and say
Who we were is still who we are

We've come so far

I think I saw you in the mirror last night

A crooked haircut and an old night-light
I started thinkin' about way back when
I can't re-live it but I'll visit it now and then

I am a rock, a mountain
I stand tall
But sometimes I'm moved
I learn to take each day not to
Take too much
Not to give too much away

I am a rock, a mountain
I stand tall
But sometimes I'm moved
I learn to take each day not to

Take too much
Not to give too much
Not take too much
Away
