When I see you again
It's different like you said it's be
Differences I feel and the walls ahead of me
Like markers on my journey
I'm sick and tired of the thought of you
The complimenting way in which we lay
Why'd you come so close to me today?

My love is like a sparrow sittin' on the window sill
Listening to lovers time waiting to be filled
My love is like a sparrow dancing on the roof
Listening to lovers speak finding silent proof
My love is like a sparrow
Oh yes it is

And if I go in again
It's deeper like you said it'd be
Heightening the senses all around me
Like summer winds in bloom
I'm woozy from the thought of you
The complimenting way in which we lay
Why'd you come so close to me today?
