Would it be so bad to be with me?
I'm the safest chance you have in this city
When this door closes
I'm not opening it again
And you can watch me from a distance

Can someone save me
From being his baby

Lord you know how i'm sweet for this one
And in the night you know i reach for this one
Making me bad and please don't turn me to stone
No, i'm trying to be good now

I am almost to the point of bailing
Sick and tired of all the words he's not saying
When this door closes i'm not opening it again
And you can watch me from a distance

Can someone save me
From being his baby
Lord you know how i'm sweet for this one
And in the night you know i reach for this one
Making me bad and please don't turn me to stone
No, i'm trying to be good now

And is it wrong that i want
And i'm willing to give, and go back in his arms?
When they're telling me how he's good for nothing else
And i try to ignore when he's knocking upon my door
Can someone save me
From Being his baby

Lord you know how i'm sweet for this one
And in the night you know i reach for this one
Making me bad and please don't turn me to stone
No, i'm trying to be good now
