The rain falls in your sky
The tears get in your eyes
She's not to my surprise
She'll be crawling back tomorrow

Through your eyes were hard to tell
But I still know you so well

Hopeless and you're easy
You work better when you're pleasing
I've been searching while you're sleeping everyday
You can't walk away

And on them you depend
The hand you never lend
On and on again
Under mine I got the other

And through your eyes were hard to tell but
I still know you so well

Hopeless and you're easy
You work better when you're pleasing
I been searching while you're sleeping every day
When everything gets wrong so while you're leaving
I thought you were better than them
But you're hopeless and you're easy everyday
You can't walk away

And through your eyes were hard to tell
But I still know you so well

Hopeless and you're easy
You work better when you're pleasing
I been searching while you're sleeping everyday
When everything gets wrong so while you're leaving
I thought you were better than them
But you're hopeless and you're easy everyday
You can't walk away
