I'm trying my hardest to do what you want
It doesn't please me, but I'll give it a shot
I'm always waiting for you to say go
And now I'm changing into someone I don't know

I don't know what you want
But if I did I'd do it differently
I don't know what you think
If I did I'd think another way
I'd do it different from you

I remember when I used think this was fun
So many others but I thought you were the one
I feel so stupid to think you believed in me
But I know that you've let me down

I don't know what you want
But if I did I'd do it differently
I don't know what you think
If I did I'd think another way

'Cause you try to convince me
I'm something I'm not
It's not that you're right and I'm wrong
I don't know what you want
If I did I'd do it differently
I'd do it different from you

I'm afraid that I'm losing myself
I don't where you end and I begin
I can see you're not my friend
This is a game I don't know how to win

I don't know what you want
If I did I'd do it differently, oh
I don't know what you think
If I did I'd think another way

'Cause you try to convince me
I'm something I'm not
It's not that you're right and I'm wrong

I don't know what you want
If I did I'd do it differently
I'd do it different from you
I'd do it different from you
