I've got syphilitic hetro friends in every part of town
I don't hate them but I know them, I don't want them hanging around
I won't roll my bones for every little girl who gets on down
I got space and space got me, I should be selling it by the pound

Ever since I heard the voice
I thought I had no choice
But then I kissed her

I don't mind if I get broken, I don't mind if I get fixed I don't mind if I'm not spoken, I don't mind if I get kicks
If I wake up dead I'll wake up just like any other day And the photographs of God I bought have almost fade away

Everything just passes by I thought it always would
But then I kissed her
