12. Psycho Rebel

Come out, come out wherever you are YouÂ've got one eye for the fame and one eye the stars
You cant hide from him he can see in the dark
Day times for pussiesÂ' killers roam in the dark
Welcome to the other side of the tracks
The city of angelsÂ' lost boys known as bats
The life can corrupt you, fuck you, love you
You think that they trust you they'll cuff you and dust you
Theres no fighting back

The light drops from the scene
The blood splatters all over the screen
WeÂ're rebels with a hell of a cause
The music reminds you that weÂ're breaking the law
The music reminds you

Padded room Psycho crazy
Waiting like orphan Annie
Memories from songs they play me
You think the lord can save me
They all know that IÂ'm the villain
Casino-eyes watch
In and outside the building
WeÂ're toy soldiers replaced with Androids
The music reminds you were real boys
The dreams took away
They keys thrown away
ThereÂ's no other way, you must do what they say
The music reminds you

The light drops from the scene
The blood splatters all over the screen
WeÂ're rebels with a hell of a cause
The music reminds you that weÂ're breaking the law
The music reminds you

Help is a medicine
It only fakes the win
Hospitals will strap you in
It happened to my closest friend
He lost all his oxygen
They made me watch him die again

He said the music will find you when I call on him
Im a lost bastard without no cause
The poster boys taped up on the wall
The time is right now
To take back our grounds
Before they hunt us all down

The light drops from the scene
The blood splatters all over the screen
WeÂ're rebels with a hell of a cause
The music reminds you that weÂ're breaking the law
The music reminds you
The music reminds you
The music reminds you
The music reminds you

The music reminds you
