Count the days and several ways to die
This is the drug that told her she could fly

The best way to die was found here tonight
They've all lost control but feeling alright
The best way to die was found tonight

Feel her pulse beating gently in the vein
Alive but dead, so close nearly the same.

The best way to die was found here tonight
They've all lost control but they're feeling alright
The best way to die was found here tonight
They've all lost control but they're feeling alright

He is that engine running in the red
Do to the boiling fever in his head
He dragged her down almost over night
An innocent loss burning wrong from right

The best way to die was found here tonight
They've all lost control but they're feeling alright
The best way to die was found here tonight

They've all lost control but they're feeling alright

You dont deserve this

You're empty, I'm empty
You left me dry

You're bending, I'm bending to save the night

Im trying, you're crying atthe outstretched hands you found hands you found, hands you found

you dont deserve this

The best way to die was found here tonight
They've all lost control but they're feeling alright

The best way to die was found here tonight
They've all lost control but they're feeling alright

The best way to die was found here tonight
They've all lost control but they're feeling alright
The best way to die was found here tonight
They've all lost control but they're feeling alright

You dont deserve this
you dont deserve this
you dont deserve this
